Early Steamboat Days.

Capt. James Kennedy and Capt. Williams, of Kansas City, commanders of steamers during the palmy days of boating on the Missouri river, while conversing at Kansas City a few days ago grew reminiscent and the Star succeeded in getting a most interesting story from their talk. During the course of the conversation Capt. Kennedy said:

"It seems like the wrecks in the early days were worse than those later. I mind the time the Saluda blew up at Lexington in '51. There were 102 people on board and eighty were killed. You know, Bill, how the water rushes around that bend above Lexington when the river's high. The best of the boats could hardly make the run. Well, Captain Belt swore that the Saluda would round that point. Twice she backed into the current and was forced back. Old Belt gave orders to put on every pound of steam for the last trial. He stood forward on the boat, swearing like a trooper. The last words he said were: 'I'll send her around that point or I'll blow her to hell!' It wasn't five minutes till she was blown somewhere. 'Cap' Belt was among the eighty killed. The safe in the cabin and the bell were blown clear up into the town."

"I mind it well," said Captain Young. "The old bell is now calling folks to prayer in the church at Savannah."

Mr. Ho Yow may succeed Minister Wu at Washington. The report that Boo Hoo was coming over to act at China's minister seems to have been premature.

The people who have the nerve to refrain from giving up at the muzzle of the Pullman porter's whisk broom will not be the least bit worried by the new organization.

Mrs. Windstraw—"What a wheezy, pinched little thing that baby of Mrs. Puffproud is, to be sure!" Mrs. Blazer (contemptuously)—"Yes; and to hear her talk you'd think she had a progeny."

Of 122 horses purchased last week in Canada for British army uses, all but fifty were rejected because they exceeded fifteen hands two and a half inches in height, the limit which new orders from the war office have placed for acceptance.

It is expected that a large proportion of the windows on the line of march of the coronation parade in London will be hired by Americans. If there is a good show going, our people are always willing to put up the money.

Deposits of Klondike gold at the Seattle assay office and the San Francisco mint so far this year aggregate only $4,625,141, against $8,505,808 in the same time last year. These are government figures, and indicate a greatly reduced production of gold in the Alaskan region during the present season.

A singular deed has been filed in Northumberland county, Pa. It is dated October 9, 1793. In a series of whereases it traces the ownership of the land conveyed from the Creator of the earth, who, "by parole and livery of seizin did enfeoff the parents of mankind, to-wit, Adam and Eve, of all that certain tract of land called and known in the planetary system as the earth."

A GREAT NEWSPAPER. The Sunday edition of the St. Louis Republic is a marvel of modern newspaper enterprise. The organization of its news service is world-wide, complete in every department; in fact, superior to that of any other newspaper.

The magazine section is illustrated in daintily tinted colors and splendid half-tone pictures. This section contains more high-class literary matter than any of the monthly magazines. The fashions illustrated in natural colors are especially valuable to the ladies.

The colored comic section is a genuine laugh-maker. The funny cartoons are by the best artists. The humorous stories are high class, by authors of national reputation. Sheet music, a high-class, popular song, is furnished free every Sunday in The Republic.

The price of the Sunday Republic by mail one year is $2.00. For sale by all news dealers.
